namelessjane question

Sun, 01/26/2014 - 11:33 -- namelessjane

Question:

I am very new to gardening, the small vegetable garden I've had the last two years has been more fun and successful than I ever dreamed. my family and I are trying to grow using organic methods, we have started or own compost and all is going well. I'm really unsure on how to fertilize. Is my compost enough? do I only add it when I plant? should I be adding more compost throughout the season?
