Doom and Bloom

Mon, 01/25/2010 - 09:26 -- Roger Doiron

Part of my work with KGI is getting the word out about kitchen gardens through public presentations. Here's a video of me giving my "Doom and Bloom" stump speech at Tufts University's Friedman School of Nutrition. I think the talk was as a success (i.e. no rotten tomatoes were thrown), but they were a friendly, like-minded audience. If, for some reason, you have an hour to kill and don't know what to do with yourself, you might give it a whirl.
