Windowsill herb garden

Sat, 04/10/2010 - 11:24 -- bewing

The basil and chives, I planted in three slightly cracked glasses, are thriving in the kitchen window. I will be moving in three months, just as the gardenign season gets into full swing. There is a small balcony at the new place, I do not, yet, know, how much sun it gets.

I will be chatting with the landlady to see if I can use some of the yard for kitchen garden.
