I found the least expensive iron phosphate slug bait

Tue, 11/09/2010 - 10:45 -- amy manning

Here in the Pacific Northwest, slugs are our worst problem. Just wanted to let you all know that I did some research yesterday in attempting to find the least expensive environmentally friendly slug bait. This requires buying a large quantity, but if you have slugs like me, this will pay off pretty quick. Check out my story on my personal blog [1].
