The definitive dill pickle.

Tue, 08/09/2011 - 05:54 -- Peter

My new post describes how I learned to make pickles [1] from my Grandfather. With homegrown ingredients, there's nothing better, and the same brine method can be used to ferment just about anything you grow in the garden from kimchi to green beans. If you haven't tried it yet, make this summer the year you learn to pickle.
