Totally Geeky KGI Photo Opportunity

Thu, 08/25/2011 - 07:40 -- Roger Doiron

Since we can't pose for a KGI group photo, I was thinking we could do the next best thing by posing for and sharing individual photos. To make this work, you'll need to leave your "little" inhibitions behind and think about the "big" garden cause and all the crazy things we need to try to promote it.

Since one size doesn't fit all, I've prepared a few different "I'm KGI" signs you can pose with depending on what you like the most. Our current site is still pretty lame about allowing to post pictures, so if you don't manage, you can always post one somewhere else (flickr, facebook, picassa, etc) and include a link to it.

Download Signs Here:

- 1) Version pictured above [1]
- 2) Alternative version 1 [2] (same as above, but just with "I'm KGI")
- 3) Alternative version 2 [3] (As pictured below: My name is I garden in..... and I'm KGI)

And, of course, feel free to come up and share a sign of your own!
