Growing cherry tomatoes indoors from seed

Wed, 05/09/2012 - 17:04 -- oceandreamer

Hello everyone, wanted to share some of my pics from this years tomotoes! I am blessed to have a very large south facing window that allows me to start my tomato seeds usually late February so that by the May (live in Canada) when I am ready to put them in my greenhouse they are already growing tomoatoes!! I actually am going to keep a couple cherry tomoato plants in doors this year as they grow just fine inside! Cheers
