Question Details (optional):

I have tomato plants growing in a raised bed and had planned to fashion "cages" from wire fencing. When I realized the fencing would cost almost $30 for enough to make 5-6 cages, I've been trying to figure out an alternative. I realize cages from this material could be used in subsequent years, but it's still more than I can afford. I'm pretty handy and don't mind picking things up on "big trash day" in the neighborhood but I'm fresh out of ideas. Help!
