In Praise of the Edible Front Yard

Tue, 07/03/2012 - 09:48 -- Roger Doiron

The suburban front yard of the future is already here as is clear from this picture from Drummondville, Quebec. Unfortunately for many people, town codes and ordinances are still stuck in the past deeming edible front yards as eyesores and nuisances. Attitudes, however, are changing and beautifully implemented projects like this one can help change even more.
